JOCKEY AT ODDS WITH TRAINERS

Regarded as Unfortunate That Coolidge-Dawes Ticket is Handicapped by Organization Division

ROUGH SPOTS NOT SMOOTHED

W. M. Butler, to be Named Chairman, Makes Many Mistakes in Attempting to Name Vice President

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Cleveland, Ohio, June 13—Dir. murrainings of a revolt running through the rank and file of the Republican National Committee vanished today when the committee met to organize for the presidential campaign.

The Coolidge slate of officers headed by William M. Butler, as chairman, was put through with but one exception. William B. Hodges of Denver was elected treasurer to succeed Fred Upham, resigned.

Arthur Mellon of Pittsburg, relative of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, had been picked to fill his post.

Butler's selection was unanimous. Those who were voicing their sentiments yesterday, at what they termed mismanagement of the vice presidential nomination situation, had cooled off completely today.

Roy West of Chicago was selected as the new secretary.

Ralph A. Williams of Oregon and Charles A. Hillis of New York were named vice chairman to succeed themselves.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 13—Torn by long hours of sleepless study over one of the most amazing political situations that ever has featured a Republican national convention, members of the national committee met today to organize for the forthcoming campaign.

All of the worry and some of the bitterness that repeatedly flared up through the struggle of the party leaders yesterday in seeking to nominate a strong running mate for President Coolidge, bristled militantly today as the new committee members and committeemen assembled to make William M. Butler their chairman for the campaign.

Of course, there is nothing to do but elect Butler to lead the national committee. It is the president's wish—and there are none to deny him. But it is perhaps unfortunate that the Coolidge-Dawes ticket goes to the post for the great quadriennial presidential sweepstakes, with the jockey sharply at odds with the trainers and many of those conducting the race.

There were many rough spots in the handling of the vice presidential nomination fight in the convention yesterday and perhaps still more in the private room conferences which preceded the balloting. Many of the old time Republican leaders pointed to these as indicative of Butler's lack of experience in national political matters. Then, too, there was much resentment that Butler—an "outsider"—should come into the party councils and attempt to establish a dictatorship over a domain long ruled by old school politicians.

Butler wanted Senator Borah for Coolidge's running mate. He thought Borah would accept. It was said Borah had never said he would not—President Coolidge, who probably never asked him to. Political leaders in the great states of Pennsylvania, New York, and Ohio said "all right, we'll put over Borah."

Then Borah threw the job back into their faces and Butler heard more than one strong administration leader.

VANNUYS TO NOMINATE NIM

Selected to Place Ralston's Name Before Democratic Convention

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13—Fredrick Van Nays will place the name of Senator Samuel Ralston in nomination in the democratic free-for-all presidential race at the national convention in New York, it was indicated here today.

Indiana's delegation of thirty-four will cast its vote solidly for Ralston. Ralston will not attend the convention but remain at his home here.

EFFORT TO GET KLAN PUBLICITY FAILURE

All But Eight of Interrogatories Presented in Federal Court by Opponents Ruled Out

ASKED NAMES OF OFFICIALS

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13—Efforts of opponents of the Ku Klux Klan to compel Klan officials to make public the names of the United States senators, congressmen, cabinet officers, judges and other public officials who are Klan members, failed in federal court here today.

After arguments in the case of Benjamin Dubois of South Bend against the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Judge Anderson ruled out twenty-six of thirty-four interrogatories filed by the plaintiff.

The interrogatories ruled out also included one asking the amount of money received by the Klan.

Only interrogatories remaining dealt with the question of whether the name of the plaintiff appeared on the Klan records, the location of offices and maintenance of Klan officials.

DAWES STAMPEDE ENDS CONVENTION

Delegates Voted, Yelled a Bit and Began Gathering up Hats and Coats Before Voting Was Over

TWO CANDIDATES NOMINATED

Never Before in History Did Convention Name Vice President Who Did Not Accept Nomination

By FRAZER EDWARDS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Cleveland, Ohio, June 13—"We want to put some pep and hell and mara into this campaign" yelled A. W. Jeffers of Omaha as he placed General G. Dawes in nomination for vice president yesterday afternoon and today delegates were still wandering about Cleveland after several hours of just that.

General Dawes was leaving Marietta, Ohio, for Chicago—the convention's choice for running mate with President Coolidge.

A Republican convention has never before nominated two vice presidential candidates in a single day, but this one did. It is not often that a Republican convention loses such control of itself that the managers are not able to guide it in the path they would have it go. But this one lost all control. It had plenty of speed in its closing hours, but was winding up like a snail and throwing vice presidential candidates all over the lake front.

The brigadier general was nominated on the third vice presidential ballot of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as positive by folks who should know, before the convention seemed to simply swarm on Dawes so as not to miss the night trains out of town. If William M. Butler, President Coolidge's campaign manager, Frank Stearns of Boston and a half dozen other convention managers had been correct, here are the tickets that would have been in the field:

Coolidge and Borah.
Coolidge and Kenyon.
Coolidge and Burton.
Coolidge and Hoover.

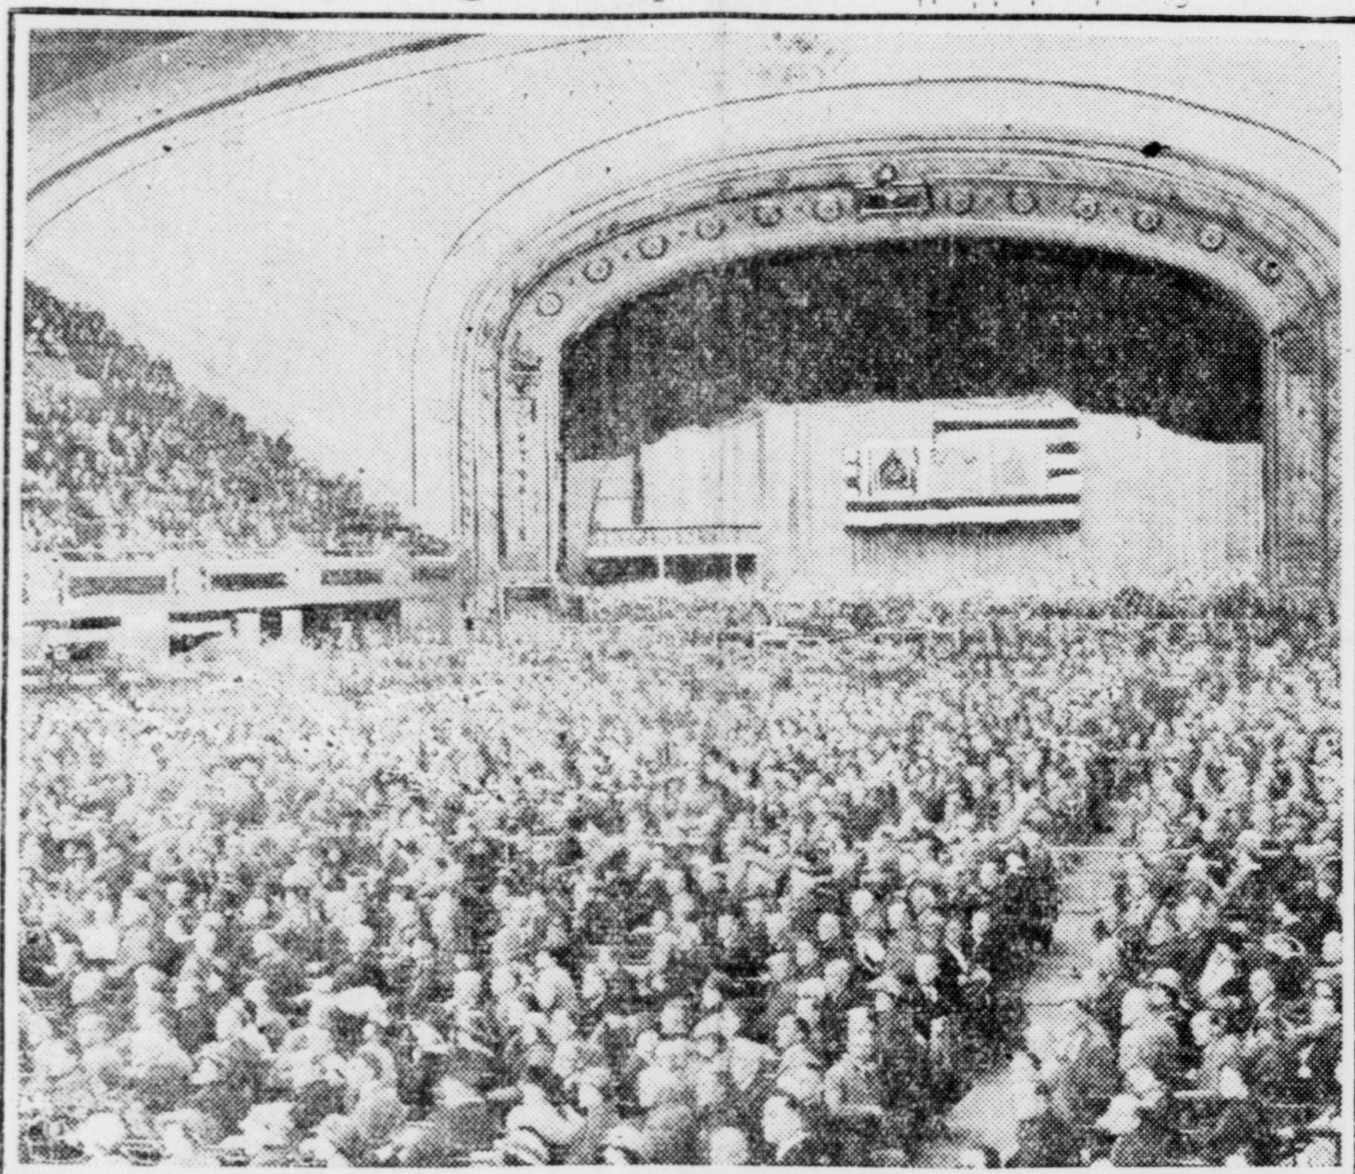

Dawes was not mentioned in the plans of the party managers and did not.

SECONDED MOTION TO SELECT DAWES

Senator Watson Called to Platform to Sanction Nomination After Third Ballot Was Cast

GOT VOTES ON EACH BALLOT

Seventy-Nine Cast For Indiana Senator on First One, 7 on Second and 45 on Third

Senator James E. Watson received 79 votes for the republican nomination for vice president, at the national convention in Cleveland Thursday afternoon, and on the second ballot he was given seven and on the third forty-five.

Senator Watson seconded the motion to make the nomination of Dawes unanimous and after the close of the convention, he issued a statement in which he expressed his gratification at being so loyally supported by the Indiana delegation.

Senator Watson said he knew the administration had decided that there should be no senator on the ticket, and that he had never been a candidate for the place and did not care for it. He added:

"The action of the Indiana delegation is very gratifying and its loyalty exceedingly pleasing. Of its own initiative it started an organization movement and it was entirely agreeable to me to leave the matter in its hands. I told chairman Webb to pursue."

More "Attend" Convention Than Ever Before in History
More Rush county people "attended" the republican national convention this year than ever before in the history of political conventions.

Scores upon scores of persons heard all or part of the proceedings of the convention over the radio.

Many recognized the voice of Senator James E. Watson, when Thursday night, he moved the nomination of Charles G. Dawes for vice president.

"Why, I always was for Charlie Dawes," he said in clear tones, according to one Rushville man who heard him.

The speeches were heard distinctly and every action of the convention was followed without interruption.

STATE IS GIVEN A CHANCE TO AMEND

Will Attempt to Make Charges Against Earl H. and Ralph Payne Stand in Court

DISCUSSED BY THE COURT

Further Arguments on Motion of Defense to Quash Grand Jury Indictments Heard

Further arguments on the motion to quash the indictments involving Earl H. Payne and Ralph Payne, accused jointly with conspiracy and the former charged with false pretense, were heard this morning in the circuit court by Judge Sparks, who reviewed the legal situation with the attorneys.

Although no decision was entered in the matter, the court intimated that the indictments were no good, and he gave the state time to amend, or file further affidavits in the matter before a final decision was entered on the docket.

Prosecutor Ketchum stated that an attempt to make the charges stand would be made, and that he expected to file an amendment or an additional paragraph.

According to the local interpretation rendered by Judge Sparks, a charge of obtaining money under false pretense must be introduced by written false statements to obtain credit, and that the question involved charged that the defendant Paynes represented certain things verbally. Several other questions of law were involved and the court deferred final action until the state is given time to remedy the mistakes, if they see fit.

LITTLE EVIDENCE OF TRAGEDY

Dreadnaught, in Whose Forward Turret Explosion Occurred Yesterday, Back at San Pedro

By HAROLD SWISHER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

San Pedro, June 13—Riding calmly at anchor the U. S. S. Mississippi rested quietly in "battleship row" today, giving little evidence of the tragedy aboard her which a few hours before had killed 48 officers and men.

Close by stood the hospital ship Relief, turned into a morgue to receive the bodies comprising the toll of the navy's greatest peace time horror and to treat the burns of the suffering men, many of whom prayed for death to end their agony.

Later today a secret board of inquiry was to convene. Captain Yates Sterling, commanding officer of the U. S. S. New Mexico, will be in charge of the investigation seeking to determine the cause of the explosion yesterday in the forward turret of the Mississippi while the dreadnaught was in battle practice off San Clemente Island, fifty miles at sea.

Los Angeles, Calif., June 13—A naval board of inquiry will be appointed.

UNIFORM DISPLAY IS SOUGHT BY THE LEGION

Representatives of Sheandoah Flag and Decorating Co. Sell Uniform Decorating Scheme

OTHER CITIES USE PLAN

Representatives of the Sheandoah Flag and Decorating company are in Rushville to install the Sheandoah system of uniform decorating for all national holidays and special events. The plan is sponsored by Rush post 150 and has the endorsement of the local business men's organization.

Solicitors for the company will begin canvassing merchants Monday, having installed the system in Franklin and Shelbyville this week. One hundred and sixteen business houses in Franklin adopted the Sheandoah system of decorating.

The system consists of an outfit which is sold directly to the business concerns and remains their permanent property. It is comprised of a four by six American flag, a twelve-foot staff and an iron housing which is inserted in the sidewalk one foot from the curb and eight inches in depth. With the outfit also is a plug to close the hole in the sidewalk when the staff and flag are not in use.

The success of the system lies in its uniformity, and unless each business house co-operates, it will be impossible to install it. Representatives of the concern said that they could not guarantee installation by July 4, on account of being behind on orders, but that if it were in any way possible to have the equipment in place in time for the Independence Day celebration, they would have it here.

The outfits are economical and in five minutes time the main streets can be lined with flags and staffs of uniform appearances. As this city in the past has been without an adequate or proper means of decorating, it is urged by the Legion that this system be adopted.

COUNTY TO MAKE EXHIBIT AT FAIR

Preliminary Plans For Educational Display Laid at Meeting With Prof. W. Q. Fitch

TO BE BUILT ABOUT AN IDEA

Local Committee of Sixteen Would Like to Have Suggestions Regarding a Central Thought

Preliminary plans for a Rush county exhibit at the Indiana state fair in Indianapolis, in September, were laid at a meeting, Thursday afternoon, which was attended by Prof. W. Q. Fitch of Purdue university, who will assist the county committee in selecting a plan for a display.

Business and farm organizations decided several days ago to enter Rush county in the educational exhibit at the state fair and Prof. Fitch was invited here to give the local committee some ideas regarding lines along which to proceed.

The local committee is composed of the following: H. D. VanMatre, county agent and chairman; Will Harton, Robert E. Mansfield, Donald D. Ball, Chester Meal, Carl Miller, John A. Tittsworth, Omer Trusler, Fred Bell, Earl Osborne, Walter Hubbard, Paul Allen, Roy E. Harrold, Howard Ewbank, George Meid, Charles M. Trowbridge and John H. Kiplinger.

Financing of the exhibit has been guaranteed and the only thing that remains is to select the idea around which the exhibit will be built and prepare the detailed plans.

Prof. Fitch was given a number of ideas by members of the committee and he will draw up a plan which will be sent back here the first of next week for action by the full committee.

The suggested plan by Prof. Fitch will be subject to change by the committee, but will be used as a working basis for building up an exhibit.

According to Prof. Fitch, a county exhibit in the educational class, unlike a county products exhibit, must be built around one central idea and nothing must be put in the exhibit which is not directly connected with the central thought that the exhibit aims to develop.

The local committee is open to suggestions from anyone and would like to have all of the ideas that may come to Rush county people interested in the advertisement of Rush county as the premier farming county of the state.

Many members of the committee feel that the exhibit should be built around the idea that Rush county is the greatest pork production county in the United States. It is pointed out that this can not be disputed and that it is the one outstanding thing in the county.

Anyone who may think he has a better idea for the exhibit is urged to get in communication with the chairman of the committee, Mr. VanMatre.

There is room for only eight county educational exhibits, and Rush county is one that got in on the "ground floor." Seven of the eight spaces have been engaged and three other counties are trying to finance the project, and the first one that is successful will be the one to get the last space.

DAUGHTERS TO BE DISCUSSED

L. E. Brown Will Preach on "Daughters of Yesterday and Today"

"Daughters of Yesterday and Today, or Girls Grave and Gay," will be the subject of the Sunday evening sermon at the Main Street Christian Church by the Rev. L. E. Brown. He has sent out 50 letters to mothers of daughters, asking their opinion about the perils and problems of the daughters and what they say and think will be presented as part of the message of the evening.

"After seeing what the 'Movies' think of our daughters let us ask seriously the question, are they telling the truth in pictures?" said the Rev. Mr. Brown. "Are the bulk of our Rushville girls 'flappers'? Will they make good wives and mothers? What do you think?"

say "I, for one, will wash my hands of the whole business."

But men like Senators Reed and Pepper of Pennsylvania, Wadsworth of New York and Willis of Ohio, decided to try, with the aid of some of the old timers, to put over for the vice presidency one of their senatorial or congressional number. They agreed upon Senator Curtis—and didn't tell Butler about it.

But the shrewd Yankee manager of Mr. Coolidge soon heard what was going on and served notice that he would oppose the selection of Curtis even to the point of carrying his fight to the platform if necessary. He countered the Curtis proposal with one for Theodore Burton, of Ohio. Balloting began with the situation.

Butler's opposition of course killed Curtis' chances and Burton was regarded as too old and not the type of man to appeal for votes in sections where votes were needed. So, with their candidate squelched by Butler, the "senatorial clique" turned to former Governor Frank O. Lowden to turn aside Burton.

Lowden's friends in the convention tried in vain to prevent his nomination and after failing tried further to discourage voting for him. But it was evident on the first ballot that Lowden commanded much popular favor. He led the field on the first ballot while Burton could muster only enough votes to run fourth—behind Kenyon and Dawes.

Butler threatened to do better, however, according to Butler, so on the second ballot, Lowden was eased over into a nomination.

This may have been done just to show Mr. Butler what can and can't be done at a convention. It was noticed that after the nomination was formally announced, none of the big delegates walked toward the doors thinking the session was about over and most of the old timers were in their seats.

Since Lowden had already declined the nomination two or three times and since the old timers knew how Lowden felt about the political chicanery which jerked the presidential nomination from under his seat in 1920, they weren't surprised at his refusal once more.

So, Burton couldn't get it, Lowden wouldn't have it—and things were all at sixes and sevens.

The convention recessed so that the leaders could think things over again. Butler suggested Judge Kenyon of Iowa again, but Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio joined in an emphatic chorus of "absolutely no."

With two throw-downs on his record, Butler turned to Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover. It was pointed out to Butler that Hoover's position was much the same as that of Borah and Lowden—it would embarrass him to accept after strenuously saying he wanted none of the jobs.

A committee talked with Hoover on the phone. They returned with the bad news that Hoover would be "embarrassed" by a nomination. Butler was adamant. It was difficult for him to understand how many men could refuse the office, if nominated, because it never had been done before. And while Lowden did it, there were extenuating circumstances.

So the ballot proceeded with the word passed from Butler's quarters that Hoover would go over "sure".

But, by this time the delegates were in ripe mood for a revolt against any more of Butler's candidates, and they rode through on Dawes, the pick of the big business delegations, who turned enough votes to him early in the balloting to get the semblance of a stampede started in the minds of the weary delegates.

The feeling of concern among some of the state chairmen at Butler's

joy of donning overalls and pattering around his beautiful 5,000 acre farm.

In a nutshell Lowden refused to accept the nomination for vice president on the Republican ticket, even after he was nominated, because he feels he is too active for the job.

In the home of Mississippi, the Lowden farm, the former governor of Illinois and unsuccessful aspirant for the 1920 Republican presidential nomination told the United Press today that he wanted freedom and activity more than the restricted life of a vice president.

Lowden thinks the ticket of Coolidge and Dawes is strong and deserving of success.

"I shall give my full support to the ticket," he said.

Lowden was the picture of health. His face is tanned from much time spent in the open. He is fond of horseback riding, it is his chief form of recreation outside of his livestock and farm work.

"I am an active man and the offices of vice president does not permit of much activity," Lowden explained. "Of course I do not underestimate the importance of the office."

Lowden is devoting much of his time to working out the problems of agriculture and is active in several large farmer organizations. In his first message of refusal to his supporters at the convention, he said he could be of more service to the country by helping agriculture out of its slump than by holding a job in Washington.

Mrs. Lowden said she believed her husband's selection by the convention was due more to enthusiasm of the moments than a belief that he would accept.

The bird had flown from all who approached, but ate from Leopold's hand and, thus, science was able to get good film studies for the first time.

SECRET INQUIRY INTO EXPLOSION

pointed at once to investigate two fatal explosions late yesterday on the dreadnought Mississippi, it was announced today.

The death list stood at 48 today, with more than a score injured.

Two terrific blasts let go on the giant battleship, one of the finest of the fleet. The first was during secret war practice off San Pedro and the second in the harbor, after the big vessel had raced into port with her dead and injured.

An explosion in a gun breach was responsible for the accident, according to preliminary reports. Most of the dead and injured were in a steel turret behind the great rifle and were trapped with no chance to escape.

The second explosion came when a shell still remaining in one of the huge guns let go after the dreadnought had dropped anchor in the harbor. The 14 inch projectile tore out across the bay, narrowly missing the steamer Yale, which was just putting out to sea with a large passenger list. Four men were crushed by the recoil of the great gun.

Following the second disaster the Mississippi put out to sea again to avoid the menace of possible additional explosions to shipping and the city.

SECONDED MOTION TO SELECT DAWES

sue his own course in the matter. Of course, I have not asked a single delegate to vote for me nor will I do that.

Although the Indiana delegation was aware of the fact that the administration had determined on Hoover after the recess, but were fearful Dawes would run away with the convention, it was determined to continue to vote for Watson. Georgia and Idaho each gave Watson one vote, and Kentucky added ten to Indiana's thirty-three for the Hoosier. Illinois insisted upon giving three votes to Representative Sanders.

Senator Watson attempted to gain the floor when Texas cast its entire vote for Dawes, giving him the nomination. Later he was called to the platform to second the motion to make the nomination of Dawes unanimous.

"Gen. Dawes is a great soldier," Senator Watson said, "he is a great patriot. A man whose advice has been accepted around the world. He is a man we may safely follow. It is a pleasure for me to second the motion made by my distinguished friend from Illinois and move that the nomination be made unanimous. With a ticket headed by Coolidge and Dawes we will march to a great victory for the Grand Old Party."

not have any marked support in hotel lobby discussions among delegates.

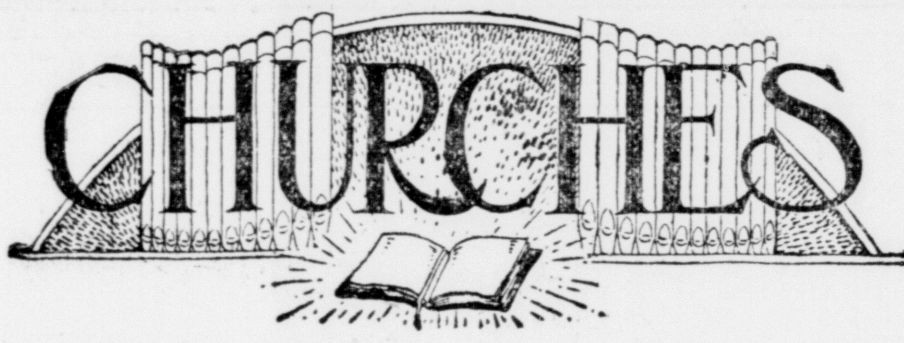

When the convention met last night, after hearing the refusal of former Governor Frank O. Lowden, no one had the slightest notion concerning the likely nominee. Coolidge managers and the opposing factions, all were prepared to test the strength of their favorites through ballots until they picked one strong enough to win.

Then Dawes began to show the greatest strength in the field, there was a stampede for him. The delegates voted, yelled a bit and began gathering up their hats and coats before the ballot was complete.

bathers. Mr. Swain is a member of the high school faculty and athletic coach.

Charles Reddington of Greensburg is the third man engaged in the enterprise of making Lake McCoy what its owners declare will be southeastern Indiana's most beautiful watering place.

The Lake is in an ideal location, three miles east of Greensburg. It is a very picturesque spot, being surrounded by shaded woods and gently sloping valleys that make it a very attractive place for a pleasure resort. New bridges have been built to add to the attractiveness of the resort.

There is also a new boat landing new dressing rooms for bathers, private lockers to accommodate one hundred persons and new boats.

Three cottages have been completed, three are under construction and six are to be started soon, according to Mr. Catt, who is superintending the improvements. Mr. and Mrs. Swain are occupying one of the new cottages. The company owns its own electric light plant.

The promoters expect to make Lake McCoy the best fishing ground in Indiana. It has been well stocked with bass and other fish and will be kept well stocked.

"Keep Off The Grass"

The Coolidge spokesmen, who reiterated time without number that the president had no intention or desire to dictate the nomination of a vice president at Cleveland, disclosed the president's real sentiments in the matter—that the "keep off the grass" sign applied to members of congress.

Senator James E. Watson admitted, after the nomination of Brig. Gen. Dawes, that the white house group did not want a member of congress on the ticket with him, in spite of previous statements that he had no intention of using his influence in any way, in the selection of a vice-presidential candidate.

It is not difficult to understand Coolidge's reasoning, in finally putting up the sign, when it began to appear that Senator Curtis might be the choice of the convention. Just as soon as the Curtis candidacy was taken seriously, William M. Butler Coolidge's campaign manager, promptly came out for Judge Kenyon former senator from Iowa. This was the first time anything had come from Coolidge's cohorts to indicate that he favored any particular man.

It is very clear that Coolidge is not going to make the campaign on the record of the congress, and therefore did not want a member of the congress on the ticket with him.

It is equally as clear why Coolidge will not want to seek the presidency on the congressional record, because the congress did not always meet his views. His vetoes were twice overridden, and another one might have been, but for the fact that it was given just as congress was adjourning.

Congress refused to follow presidential advice on the bonus or tax revision, and this fall we will find out whether the president or congress was right.

Farm Situation Better

It's no easy matter to attempt to tell a farmer that the average condition of the American farmer has improved ten percent during the past year.

But that's what the department of agriculture is doing, and if it succeeds in making some farmers believe that their business is on the up grade, it will be better for them and the country as well.

Revised estimates, the department says, show that the 1923 crops had a total value of about ten billions of dollars, an increase of more than a billion in one year.

Total value of exports of principal agricultural products from United States for eight months ended Feb. 29, 1924, was $1,308,338,000 as compared with $1,233,716,000 for the same period during preceding year, an increase of 6 percent.

In a recent statement, the Department of Agriculture says: "The general agricultural outlook for 1924 indicates that farmers are undertaking a normal production program. It is apparent, however, that agricultural production this year will still be attended by difficulties arising from high wages and other costs."

"Domestic demand for agricultural products is at a high level. Foreign markets on the whole, seem likely to maintain about the present level of demand."

FIFTEEN YEARS
AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Monday, June 14, 1909
Tom Meredith will leave Wednesday for Marthorne, Florida, where he will be employed on the Florida-Cuba railroad as an assistant electrician.

The Fourth of July this year will come on the fifth, or rather it will be celebrated on the fifth, as Sunday is the Fourth. There will be no big, old-fashioned patriotic, eagle screaming celebration, but the one hundred and thirty-third anniversary of the birth of the nation will be observed as a holiday on Monday, July 5.

Bob Tompkins, Harrie Jones and Will Jay have erected a dandy bungalow on the farm of "Pop" Powers in Jackson township on the banks of the classic Flatrock where they will spend a number of week-ends this summer.

Just an ordinary Sunday was yesterday, nothing going on in particular anywhere, but still over three hundred people left Rushville and journeyed to other cities to spend the day.

Mrs. T. H. Chadwick and son Roy of Pleasant Lake returned home today after spending Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Chadwick in North Morgan street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stone of Carthage went to Richmond today to be present at the celebration exercises of the fiftieth anniversary of Earlham college. Miss Rema Stone graduates with this class.

Miss Murillo Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Roth, of Brookville, who attends the Catholic school, over a mile distant from her home, never missed an hour in the two years she has been attending school.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mull and Mr. and Mrs. Will Havens made a trip to Indianapolis yesterday in an automobile.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Not the least of the considerations entering into the pre-convention maneuvering of Democratic chiefs are the ages of the respective candidates for the presidential nomination.

For the purposes of these leaders, the individuals considered as "possibilities" are merely pawns in a game, to be advanced or withdrawn as the exigencies of the play proceed. Neither sentiment nor personal loyalty is permitted to stand in the way of making the play that promises to bring success to the particular interests or groups behind the game.

For there are special interests desiring to control the selection of the Democratic nominee, just as there are interests which seek to shape affairs in the G. O. P.

THIS matter of age enters into the plans of the play through the really considered possibility that the man put at the top of the ticket might not live out his term. Failing to get across the particular man or sort of man they desire as the nominee for president, it might then become preferable to help boost into first place the man most likely to succumb to his years and the burdens of the office, seeking to get into second place on the ticket the man or type of man they would really prefer as president.

OF the dozen or more leading and "dark horse" candidates in the running at New York, five are more than 60 years of age.

McAdoo is the youngest of the sexagenarians. He will be 61 on Oct. 31. Also, he is physically the most active. Due to his temperament and his physical fitness, his age is no handicap. He has the sneaky winsome of a broncho and the physical keenness of the average man of 40.

Underwood comes next, with 62 years behind him. Well preserved, well poised, somewhat phlegmatic, he is the sort that passes three-score and ten with reasonable security.

Walsh of Montana, at 65, also would be a good insurance risk. He feels, as he looks, more nearly 55.

Glass of Virginia, who is rumored as the legatee of the McAdoo strength in case William Gibbs cannot land the nomination, was 66 last January. Small, wiry, physically as tough as sole leather, he is the type that gradually shrivels to a wrinkled old age, but keeps a bright eye and caustic tongue into his eighties.

Last, and oldest of the five, is Samuel Moffett Ralston of Indiana, by many regarded—because of, not in spite of, his years—the most likely nominee.

MUCH has been written of Ralston's age as a handicap to his nomination. No one has raised that issue against Glass, although Ralston is only one month and four days older. He was 66 on Dec. 1. But Ralston is a big, heavy-bodied man and his years appear at least to rest more heavily upon him.

And there is where the favor of the boys who may be forced to play a long shot to achieve their desires comes in.

TAKE the wets, for instance. For there is an aggressive wet to be seen among the Democrats. Failing to put across Smith or some equally open wet for the top of the ticket, it is suggested they throw their full strength to Ralston. Ralston is not a wet, of course. He's a Hoosier Presbyterian.

But the nomination of Ralston for first place might open the door to Ritchie of Maryland or Siler of New Jersey for second place. Both are wets.

The final result would be left in the hands of Fate!

INDIANA TRAVELERS HERE

Rushville Team Will Make Another
Effort to Play Ball Sunday

Another effort to play baseball will be made Sunday by the Rushville club, and the Indiana Travelers of Indianapolis are billed for a game, providing the weather man continues to let the sun shine.

The season has been a failure so far on account of inability to play on wet grounds, and five of the games were called off on account of the weather. The Travelers are a fast bunch of players and for years have made regular trips to this city and on all occasions they have a good team. On the Sunday following, the Batesville club has been booked. Two games will be played July 4, with the Modern Woodman team of Anderson one game to be played at 9:30 in the morning, and the other at 3 in the afternoon.

FOR APPENDICITIS

William Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meyers, of north of this city is improving nicely after his operation for the removal of his appendix last Saturday at Dr. Frank Green's hospital.

U. S. RANKS HIGH FOR OLYMPIC POLO

By PERCY M. SARR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
London, June 13—It looks like the finals for the Olympic polo championship will be confirmed to the United States, Argentina and Great Britain. Such is the impression gained from talks with the leading players of these countries, now in England for practice and sharpening-up with a view to triumph at Paris.

British, Argentine and American players are not greatly worried about possible French, Spanish, or other opponents. They have their eyes on each other.

Jack Nelson, Argentina's brilliant captain, is quietly confident of beating England—if Argentina meets them—but is not quite sure about America.

The reason that Nelson is doubtful about America is that there is something of an "if" about Argentina and Great Britain. There is apparently none about the United States team.

The present Argentine team is of an experimental character, as the members had not, prior to arrival in England played together as a team. As regards ponies, no fears are entertained, for Jack Nelson told me that his string of 33 animals is far superior to those brought over for the matches with England last year.

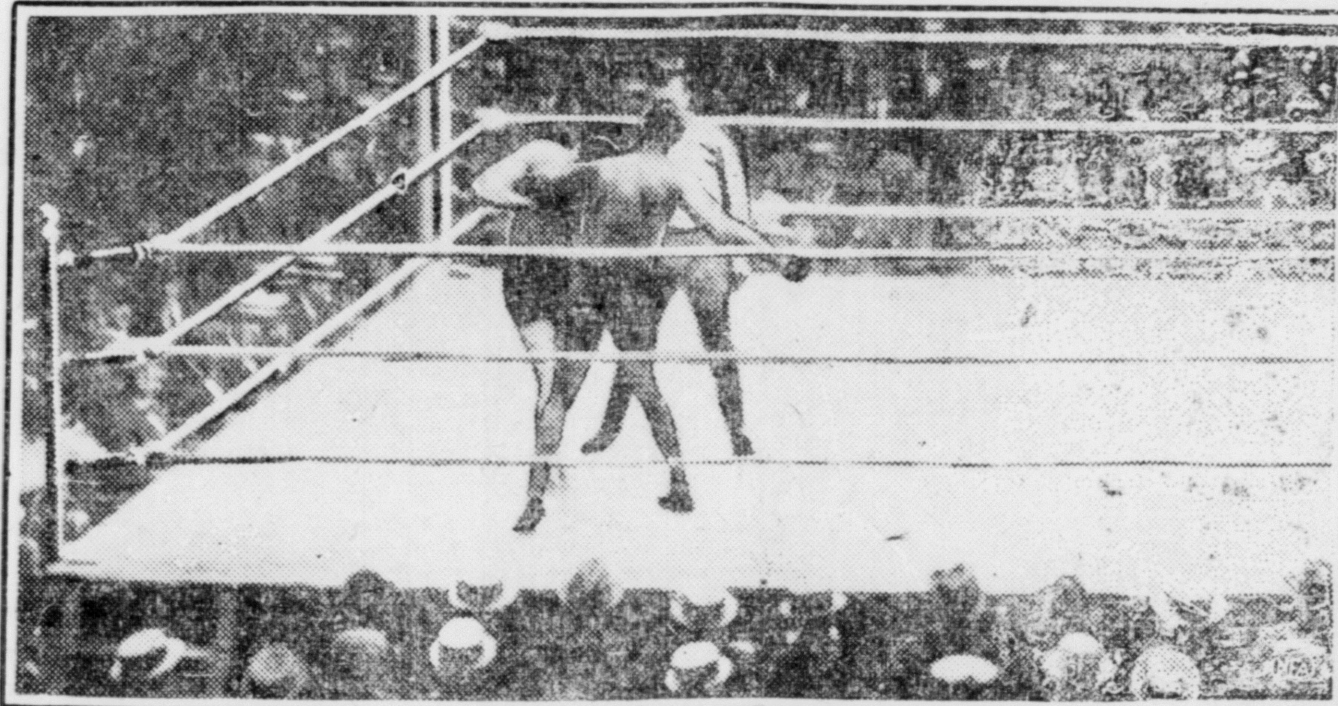

As regards individual players, Nelson is quite satisfied. A. Kenny, the Argentine No. 1, is a magnificent player and one of the best amateur jockeys in the southern republic. Kenny was unable to make the voyage last year and the "Big Four" earned international fame. Unfortunately for Argentina only two of them are left to contest the Olympic championship. At the last moment David Miles was unable to make the journey, and Lacey is barred, under Olympic rules, owing to not having been born in the Argentine—actually he was born in Canada, I believe. Argentina's bad luck will probably prove England's fortune, for Lacey, not wishing to drop out of international polo, has intimated his readiness to accept selection for the British team which will visit America in September to fight for the international cup. His selection is almost a foregone conclusion.

Reverting to the Argentine team, David Miles' absence may not be an insurmountable difficulty, for it will necessitate Jack Miles playing No. 3, and Captain Nelson says that is really his proper position. For the important position of "back" the Argentinians have Captain Padilla, a player who in early practice matches earned golden opinions here. Captain Nelson plays No. 2. The reserve will be Brooke Naylor.

The United States lineup will be: "Tommy" Hitchcock, of the Aiken Polo Club; Rodman Wanamaker, Bryn Mawr Polo Club; Elmer J. Boeske, Jr., Sana Barbara Polo club; Frederick Roe, Bryn Mawr Polo Club; reserve, George Moore, Santa Barbara Club.

Hitchcock is recognized as one of the best men playing today. His lightning dashes up the field in the famous Milburn team which won the Westchester Cup from England a couple of years ago are still remembered here with painful admiration.

When Wills Won, But Couldn't "Lick"

Scene at the Wills-Madden fight in which the fighting Irishman surprised the sports stars and won wide-spread commendation for his gameness.

Rodman Wanamaker is fairly well known here, and is classed as "plus 6" under British rules. I personally think his handicap will be largely increased before this season is ended. At present, one cannot say that the United States team compares with the "Big Four" which won the Westchester Cup, but they are fine players and well mounted. Hitchcock himself might win any match.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

An easy win from the Boston Braves, 9 to 5, put the Chicago Cubs with in half a game of the league leading Giants.

A ninth inning rally by the Cleveland Indians failed to beat the Boston Red Sox, who won 4 to 3.

Manager Huggins' new batting order showed up strong against the Tigers and the Yankees won 10 to 4.

Thurston pitching for the White Sox was never in difficulty and won his ninth game of the season, defeating the Athletics, 5 to 3.

Jackson Scholz, of the New York Athletic Club, who bettered Olympic records for the 10-meter dash at try-outs for the Olympic games recently staged.

LARGE FIELD OF ATHLETES

Chief Interest is Meeting of Paddock and Several Runners Who Are After His Title

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 12—Uncle Sam looks over his track and field hopefuls today and Saturday at the Harvard Stadium, and picks those who will carry his shield in the Olympic games of 1924.

Unprecedentedly large fields have qualified for the various events to be contested, and many trial heats are in order.

After the running and the jumping and the weight pushing is over, the Olympic team selection committee will meet at the Boston A. A., Saturday night and name the American team.

Club and college athletes who have come through the sectional tryouts are headed for Cambridge. There are stars and record threateners in practically every event, but it is the sprinters who will draw the attention.

Chief interest centers in the meeting over the hundred meter route of Charley Paddock, Loren Murchison, Jackson V. Scholz and Frank Hussey, the latter the sensational Brooklyn school boy sprinter.

At Cambridge may come the opportunity to see just how good Charley Paddock is today and how he stacks up against the sprinters of the east whom he has beaten in the past, but who have been more consistent performers of late.

Once when I came in from my run with my stomach all upset and my digestion just about wrecked, Tanlac proved effective and I began to swear by it. Again following an accident that kept me in bed for a long time and pulled me down to a mere shadow of myself, I turned to Tanlac and it built my weight right up and gave me back all the energy and strength I ever had."

Takes pills for years—finds first permanent relief in Kellogg's Bran

Have you found permanent relief from that terrible disease—constipation? The woman whose letter follows discovered—as thousands have discovered—that Kellogg's Bran succeeds when all else fails. This is because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. This is what she wrote:

"Gentlemen: I am so wonderfully happy over my discovery, I feel I must tell the world about it. For years I have been ill continually from constipation, always resorting to pills or the like, never having any permanent relief until I heard of your Bran.

Every morning I take two tablespoons before my breakfast—and since the latter part of August I must admit have not experienced one sick spell which I have had for years. I have started my little girl of four years on your Bran, and already I have noticed a change in her. I thank you."

Name and address furnished on request. Write the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krambled, is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases of constipation. Eat at least two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Money returned if not effective.

Notice the wonderful nut-like flavor. This flavor is delicious—so different from ordinary, unpalatable bran. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krambled, made in Battle Creek, is served by America's leading hotels and clubs. Demand Kellogg's Bran. It will bring back your health. Start eating it today. Sold by all grocers.

MOVIES

Jack Holt Feature

From the rolling plains of the biggest ranch in Montana, to the heights of the snow-capped peaks, ranges the action of "Ridgeway of Montana," Jack Holt's western starring feature, a Universal offering at the Mystic theatre today.

Someone once said that action, no matter how intricate and fast-moving can not make a picture of this type really interesting unless it has novel elements. Readers of William McLeod Raine's novels of the west, of which this is one of the most popular, look for Raine's unusual and strange plots.

Holt is supported by a capable cast including such veterans as Herbert Fortier, Lon Meehan, Pat Harmon, Charles E. Thurston and William McCall. In addition, Pierre Gendron, one of the most promising juvenile leading men, and Olive Hasbrouck, a "discovery", elevated from the ranks of minor players, are presented in principal roles. "Bunk", an Australian shepherd dog owned by Holt, also is seen in his very first screen role.

"Daughters of Today," a story of the younger generation opened a three day engagement at the Castle theatre Thursday. This is the world's premiere of the film which has not been shown even in New York. The story deals with the adventures of a young girl who leaves her home in the country to go away to college. Arriving there she gets in with the wrong crowd, the gambling drinking set, and pursues her gay and thoughtless way to the distress of her parents. Finally, after a series of adventures, culminating in murder, the picture leads to a satisfying ending. The cast is headed by Patsy Ruth Miller, star of the "Hunchback of Notre Dame," and Ralph Graves, featured with Marion Davies in the latest Cosmopolitan film, "Yolanda." In their support appear, Zazu Pitts, Phil McCullough, Edna Murphy, Phillips Smalley, George Nichols and Gertrude Claire.

"Those Who Dance"

A tribute to the devotion of women who will risk life itself or the living death of dishonor for the men they love is paid by Thomas H. Ince in his new drama, "Those Who Dance," a First National release which comes to the Princess theatre today and Saturday.

Ince has told a remarkable story of a little country girl who falls in with the life of the New York underworld in the attempt to save her brother from gangsters who have "framed" him on a charge of murder. When every other attempt fails, Rose, rather than abandon her brother to his fate, throws away her good name and, through an affinity whom she takes into the home of the bootleg king of the underworld, gets the necessary evidence which frees her brother.

Blanche Sweet, as the innocent girl from up-state, who hobs her lovely curls and puts on the plant and flapper dress of an underworld queen to save a man from the electric chair, has one of the most compelling roles she ever has portrayed. The dual characterization gives her full scope for the scope for the dramatic ability she displayed so tellingly in "Anne Christie."

THIS BEAUTIFUL NEW ADDITION TO RUSHVILLE

The Lots Are All Wide and Deep

Ranging in width from 50 feet to 60 feet and 165 Feet in depth.

THE LOCATION IS THE BEST

Being Bounded on the north and west by Memorial Park and the soon to be improved Park Boulevard; on the east by Main street, and on the south and east by as fine a Residential District as there is anywhere.

A SANITARY SEWER will be brought to the street or alley adjacent to every lot, without any additional cost.

AMERICAN ELM TREES—A tree of rapid and lofty growth, have been set out over the entire addition.

BUILDING RESTRICTIONS have been placed on each lot, requiring at least a certain amount to be expended and that the house be set back so far from the street, thus standardizing and appreciating the value of every other lot.

EASY PAYMENTS PERMITTED

JOCKEY AT ODDS WITH TRAINERS

Regarded as Unfortunate That Coolidge-Dawes Ticket is Handicapped by Organization Division

ROUGH SPOTS NOT SMOOTHED

W. M. Butler, to be Named Chairman, Makes Many Mistakes in Attempting to Name Vice President

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Cleveland, Ohio, June 13—Discussions of a revolt running through the rank and file of the Republican National Committee vanished today when the committee met to organize for the presidential campaign.

The Coolidge slate of officers headed by William M. Butler, as chairman, was put through with but one exception. William B. Hodges of Denver was elected treasurer to succeed Fred Upham, resigned.

Arthur Mellon of Pittsburgh, relative of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, had been picked to fill his post.

Butler's selection was unanimous. Those who were voicing their sentiments yesterday, at what they termed mismanagement of the vice presidential nomination situation, had cooled off completely today.

Roy West of Chicago was selected as the new secretary.

Ralph A. Williams of Oregon and Charles A. Hillis of New York were named vice chairman to succeed themselves.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 13—Torn by long hours of sleepless study over one of the most amazing political situations that ever has featured a Republican national convention, members of the national committee met today to organize for the forthcoming campaign.

All of the worry and some of the bitterness that repeatedly flared up through the struggle of the party leaders yesterday in seeking to nominate a strong running mate for President Coolidge, bristled militantly today as the new committeemen and committeewomen assembled to make William M. Butler their chairman for the campaign.

Of course, there is nothing to do but elect Butler to lead the national committee. It is the president's wish—and there are none to deny him. But it is perhaps unfortunate that the Coolidge-Dawes ticket goes to the post for the great quadriennial presidential sweepstakes, with the jockey sharply at odds with the trainers and many of those conducting the race.

There were many rough spots in the handling of the vice presidential nomination fight in the convention yesterday and perhaps still more in the private room conferences which preceded the balloting. Many of the old time Republican leaders pointed to these as indicative of Butler's lack of experience in national political matters. Then, too, there was much resentment that Butler—an "outsider"—should come into the party councils and attempt to establish a dictatorship over a domain long ruled by old school politicians.

Butler wanted Senator Borah for Coolidge's running mate. He thought Borah would accept. It was said Borah had never said he would not—to President Coolidge, who probably never asked him to. Political leaders in the great states of Pennsylvania, New York, and Ohio said "all right, we'll put over Borah."

Then Borah threw the job back into their faces and Butler heard more than one strong administration leader.

VANNUYS TO NOMINATE NIM

Selected to Place Ralston's Name Before Democratic Convention

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13—Fredrick Van Nuy's will place the name of Senator Samuel Ralston in nomination in the democratic free-for-all presidential race at the national convention in New York, it was indicated here today.

Indiana's delegation of thirty-four will cast its vote solidly for Ralston. Ralston will not attend the convention but remain at his home here.

EFFORT TO GET KLAN PUBLICITY FAILURE

All But Eight of Interrogatories Presented in Federal Court by Opponents Ruled Out

ASKED NAMES OF OFFICIALS

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13—Efforts of opponents of the Ku Klux Klan to compel Klan officials to make public the names of the United States senators, congressmen, cabinet officers, judges and other public officials who are Klan members, failed in federal court here today.

After arguments in the case of Benjamin Dubois of South Bend against the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Judge Anderson ruled out twenty-six of thirty-four interrogatories filed by the plaintiff.

The interrogatories ruled out also included one asking the amount of money received by the Klan.

Only interrogatories remaining dealt with the question of whether the name of the plaintiff appeared on the Klan records, the location of offices and maintenance of Klan officials.

Never Before in History Did Convention Name Vice President Who Did Not Accept Nomination

By FRAZER EDWARDS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Cleveland, Ohio, June 13—"We want to put some pep and hell and marionette into this campaign," yelled A. W. Jeffers of Omaha as he placed General G. Dawes in nomination for vice president yesterday afternoon and today delegates were still wandering about Cleveland after several hours of just that.

General Dawes was leaving Marietta, Ohio, for Chicago—the convention's choice for running mate with President Coolidge.

A Republican convention has never before nominated two vice presidential candidates in a single day, but this one did. It is not often that a Republican convention loses such control of itself that the managers are not able to guide it in the path they would have it go. But this one lost all control. It had plenty of speed in its closing hours, but was winding up like a souped-up and throwing vice presidential candidates all over the lake front.

The brigadier general was nominated on the third vice presidential ballot of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as positive by folks who should know, before the convention seemed to simply swarm on Dawes so as not to miss the night train out of town. If William M. Butler, President Coolidge's campaign manager, Frank Stearns of Boston and a half dozen other convention managers had been correct, here are the tickets that would have been in the field:

Coolidge and Borah.
Coolidge and Kenyon.
Coolidge and Burton.
Coolidge and Hoover.

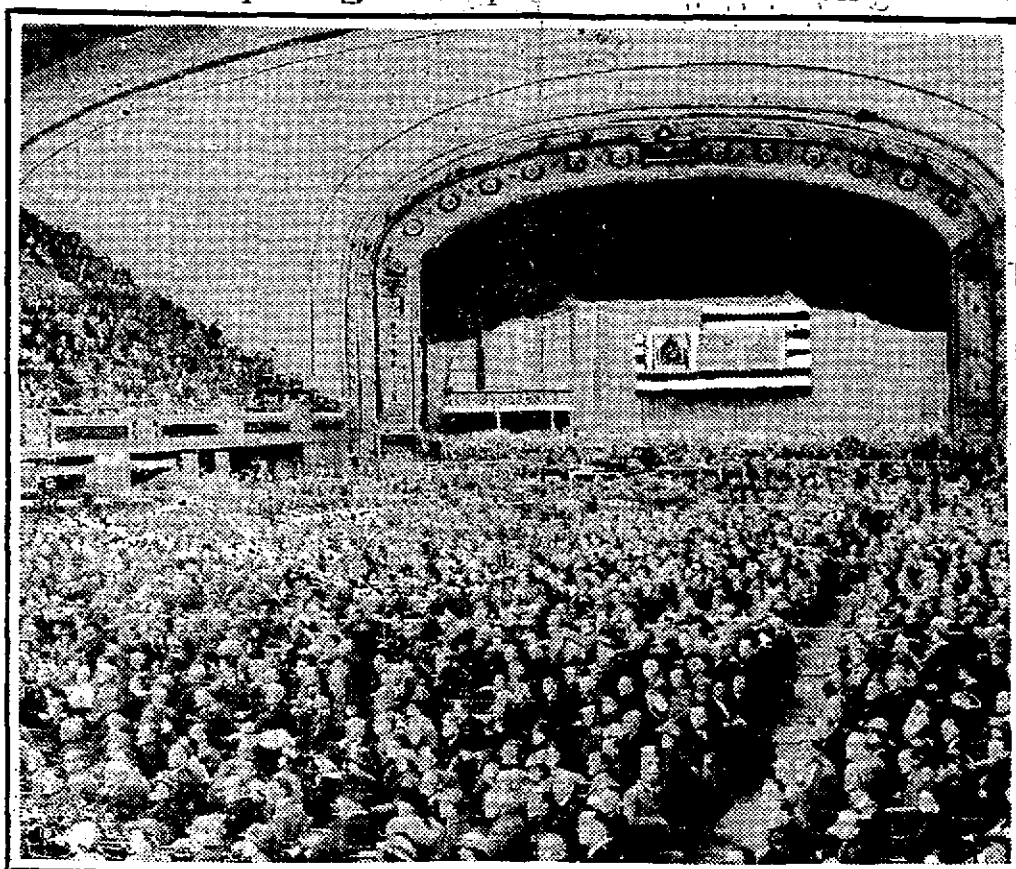

Dawes was not mentioned in the plans of the party managers and the delegates.

SECONDED MOTION TO SELECT DAWES

Senator Watson Called to Platform to Sanction Nomination After Third Ballot Was Cast

GOT VOTES ON EACH BALLOT

Seventy-Nine Cast For Indiana Senator on First One, 7 on Second and 45 on Third

Senator James E. Watson received 79 votes for the republican nomination for vice president, at the national convention in Cleveland Thursday afternoon, and on the second ballot he was given seven and on the third forty-five.

Senator Watson seconded the motion to make the nomination of Dawes unanimous and after the close of the convention, he issued a statement in which he expressed his gratification at being so loyally supported by the Indiana delegation.

Senator Watson said he knew the administration had decided that there should be no senator on the ticket, and that he had never been a candidate for the place and did not care for it. He added:

"The action of the Indiana delegation is very gratifying and its loyalty exceedingly pleasing. Of its own initiative it started an organization movement and it was entirely agreeable to me to leave the matter in its hands. I told chairman Webb to put it on the floor."

Scores upon scores of persons heard all or part of the proceedings of the convention over the radio.

Many recognized the voice of Senator James E. Watson, when Thursday night, he moved the nomination of Charles G. Dawes for vice president.

"Why, I always was for Charlie Dawes," he said in clear tones, according to one Rushville man who heard him.

The speeches were heard distinctly and every action of the convention was followed without interruption.

STATE IS GIVEN A CHANCE TO AMEND

Will Attempt to Make Charges Against Earl H. and Ralph Payne Stand in Court

DISCUSSED BY THE COURT

Further Arguments on Motion of Defense to Quash Grand Jury Indictments Heard

Further arguments on the motion to quash the indictments involving Earl H. Payne and Ralph Payne, accused jointly with conspiracy and the former charged with false pretense, were heard this morning in the circuit court by Judge Sparks, who reviewed the legal situation with the attorneys.

Although no decision was entered in the matter, the court intimated that the indictments were no good, and he gave the state time to amend, or file further affidavits in the matter before a final decision was entered on the docket.

Prosecutor Ketchum stated that an attempt to make the charges stand would be made, and that he expected to file an amendment or an additional paragraph.

According to the local interpretation rendered by Judge Sparks, a charge of obtaining money under false pretense must be introduced by written false statements to obtain credit, and that the question involved charged that the defendant Paynes represented certain things verbally. Several other questions of law were involved, and the court deferred final action until the state is given time to remedy the mistakes, if they see fit.

LITTLE EVIDENCE OF TRAGEDY

Dreadnaught, in Whose Forward Turret Explosion Occurred Yesterday, Back at San Pedro

By HAROLD SWISHER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

San Pedro, June 13—Riding calmly at anchor the U. S. S. Mississippi rested quietly in "battleship row" today, giving little evidence of the tragedy aboard her which a few hours before had killed 48 officers and men.

Close by stood the hospital ship Relief, turned into a morgue to receive the bodies comprising the toll of the navy's greatest peace time horror and to treat the burns of the suffering men, many of whom prayed for death to end their agony.

Later today a secret board of inquiry was to convene. Captain Yates Sterling, commanding officer of the U. S. S. New Mexico, will be in charge of the investigation seeking to determine the cause of the explosion yesterday in the forward turret of the Mississippi while the dreadnaught was in battle practice off San Clemente Island, fifty miles at sea.

Los Angeles, Calif., June 13—A naval board of inquiry will be appointed today.

UNIFORM DISPLAY IS SOUGHT BY THE LEGION

Representatives of Shehendoah Flag and Decorating Co., Sell Uniform Decorating Scheme

OTHER CITIES USE PLAN

Representatives of the Shehendoah Flag and Decorating company are in Rushville to install the Shehendoah system of uniform decorating for all national holidays and special events. The plan is sponsored by Rush post 150 and has the endorsement of the local business men's organization.

Solicitors for the company will begin canvassing merchants Monday, having installed the system in Franklin and Shelbyville this week. One hundred and sixteen business houses in Franklin adopted the Shehendoah system of decorating.

The system consists of an outfit which is sold directly to the business concern and remains their permanent property. It is comprised of a four by six American flag, a twelve-foot staff and an iron housing which is inserted in the sidewalk one foot from the curb and eight inches in depth. With the outfit also is a plug to close the hole in the sidewalk when the staff and flag are not in use.

The success of the system lies in its uniformity, and unless each business house co-operates, it will be impossible to install it. Representatives of the concern said that they could not guarantee installation by July 4, on account of being behind on orders, but that if it were in any way possible to have the equipment in place in time for the Independence Day celebration, they would have it here.

The outfits are economical and in five minutes time the main streets can be lined with flags and staffs of uniform appearance. As this city in the past has been without an adequate or proper means of decorating, it is urged by the Legion that this system be adopted.

COUNTY TO MAKE EXHIBIT AT FAIR

Preliminary Plans For Educational Display Laid at Meeting With Prof. W. O. Fitch

TO BE BUILT ABOUT AN IDEA

Local Committee of Sixteen Would Like to Have Suggestions Regarding a Central Thought

Preliminary plans for a Rush county exhibit at the Indiana state fair in Indianapolis, in September, were laid at a meeting, Thursday afternoon, which was attended by Prof. W. O. Fitch of Purdue university, who will assist the county committee in selecting a plan for a display.

Business and farm organizations decided several days ago to enter Rush county in the educational exhibit at the state fair and Prof. Fitch was invited here to give the local committee some ideas regarding lines along which to proceed.

The local committee is composed of the following: H. D. VanMatre, county agent and chairman; Will Harton, Robert E. Mansfield, Donald D. Ball, Chester Mead, Carl Miller, John A. Titsworth, Omar Trusler, Fred Bell, Earl Osborne, Walter Hubbard, Paul Allen, Roy E. Harrold, Howard Ewbank, George Meid, Charles M. Trowbridge and John H. Kiplinger.

Financing of the exhibit has been guaranteed and the only thing that remains is to select the idea around which the exhibit will be built and prepare the detailed plans.

Prof. Fitch was given a number of ideas by members of the committee and he will draw up a plan which will be sent back here the first of next week for action by the full committee.

The suggested plan by Prof. Fitch will be subject to change by the committee, but will be used as a working basis for building up an exhibit.

According to Prof. Fitch, a county exhibit in the educational class, unlike a county products exhibit, must be built around one central idea and nothing must be put in the exhibit which is not directly connected with the central thought that the exhibit aims to develop.

The local committee is open to suggestions from anyone and would like to have all of the ideas that may come to Rush county people interested in the advertisement of Rush county as the premier farming county of the state.

Many members of the committee feel that the exhibit should be built around the idea that Rush county is the greatest pork production county in the United States. It is pointed out that this cannot be disputed and that it is the one outstanding thing in the county.

Anyone who may think he has a better idea for the exhibit is urged to get in communication with the chairman of the committee, Mr. VanMatre.

There is room for only eight county educational exhibits, and Rush county is one that got in on the "ground floor." Seven of the eight spaces have been engaged and three other counties are trying to finance the project, and the first one that is successful will be the one to get the last space.

L. E. Brown Will Preach on "Daughters of Yesterday and Today"

"Daughters of Yesterday and Today, or Girls Grave and Gay," will be the subject of the Sunday evening sermon at the Main Street Christian Church by the Rev. L. E. Brown. "After seeing what the 'Movies' think of our daughters let us ask seriously the question, are they telling the truth in pictures?" said the Rev. Mr. Brown. "Are the bulk of our Rushville girls 'flappers'? Will they make good wives and mothers? What do you think?"

WITH TRAINERS

say "I, for one, will wash my hands of the whole business."

But men like Senators Reed and Pepper of Pennsylvania, Wadsworth of New York and Willis of Ohio, decided to try, with the aid of some of the old timers, to put over for the vice presidency one of their senatorial or congressional number. They agreed upon Senator Curtis—and didn't tell Butler about it.

But the shrewd Yankee manager of Mr. Coolidge soon heard what was going on and served notice that he would oppose the selection of Curtis even to the point of carrying his fight to the platform if necessary. He countered the Curtis proposal with one for Theodore Burton, of Ohio. Balloting began with the situation.

Butler's opposition of course killed Curtis' chances and Burton was regarded as too old and not the type of man to appeal for votes in sections where votes were needed. So, with their candidate squelched by Butler, the "senatorial clique" turned to former Governor Frank O. Lowden to turn aside Burton.

Lowden's friends in the convention tried in vain to prevent his nomination and after failing tried further to discourage voting for him. But it was evident on the first ballot that Lowden commanded much popular favor. He led the field on the first ballot while Burton could muster only enough votes to run fourth—behind Kenyon and Dawes.

Burton threatened to do better, however, according to Butler, so on the second ballot, Lowden was raised over into a nomination.

This may have been done just to show Mr. Butler what can and can't be done at a convention. It was noticed that after the nomination was formally announced, none of the big delegates walked toward the doors thinking the session was about over and most of the old timers were in their seats.

Since Lowden had already declined the nomination two or three times and since the old timers knew how Lowden felt about the political chicanery which jerked the presidential nomination from under his seat in 1920, they weren't surprised at his refusal once more.

So, Burton couldn't get it, Lowden wouldn't have it—and things were all at sixes and sevens.

The convention recessed so that the leaders could think things over again. Butler suggested Judge Kenyon of Iowa again, but Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio joined in an emphatic chorus of "absolutely no."

With two throw-downs on his record, Butler turned to Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover. It was pointed out to Butler that Hoover's position was much the same as that of Borah and Lowden—it would embarrass him to accept after strenuously saying he wanted none of the jobs.

A committee talked with Hoover on the phone. They returned with the bad news that Hoover would be "embarrassed" by a nomination. Butler was adamant. It was difficult for him to understand how many men could refuse the office, if nominated, because it never had been done before. And while Lowden did it, there were extenuating circumstances.

So the ballot proceeded with the word passed from Butler's quarters that Hoover would go over "sure."

But, by this time the delegates were in ripe mood for a revolt against any more of Butler's candidates, and they rode through on Dawes, the pick of the big business delegations, who turned enough votes to him early in the balloting to get the semblance of a stampede started in the minds of the weary delegates.

joy of donning overalls and patting around his beautiful 5,000 acre farm.

In a nutshell Lowden refused to accept the nomination for vice president on the Republican ticket, even after he was nominated, because he feels he is too active for the job. In the home of Mississippi, the Lowden farm, the former governor of Illinois and unsuccessful aspirant for the 1920 Republican presidential nomination told the United Press today that he wanted freedom and activity more than the restricted life of a vice president.

Lowden thinks the ticket of Coolidge and Dawes is strong and deserving of success.

"I shall give my full support to the ticket," he said.

Lowden was the picture of health. His face is tanned from much time spent in the open. He is fond of horseback riding, it is his chief form of recreation outside of his livestock and farm work.

"I am an active man and the offices of vice president does not permit of much activity," Lowden explained. "Of course I do not underestimate the importance of the office."

Lowden is devoting much of his time to working out the problems of agriculture and is active in several large farmer organizations. In his first message of refusal to his supporters at the convention, he said he could be of more service to the country by helping agriculture out of its slump than by holding a job in Washington.

Mrs. Lowden said she believed her husband's selection by the convention was due more to enthusiasm of the moments than a belief that he would accept.

The death list stood at 48 today, with more than a score injured.

Two terrific blasts let go on the giant battleship, one of the finest of the fleet. The first was during secret war practice off San Pedro and the second in the harbor, after the big vessel had raced into port with her dead and injured.

An explosion in a gun branch was responsible for the accident, according to preliminary reports. Most of the dead and injured were in a steel turret behind the great rifle and were trapped with no chance to escape.

The second explosion came when a shell still remaining in one of the huge guns let go after the dreadnought had dropped anchor in the harbor. The 114 inch projectile tore out across the bay, narrowly missing the steamer Yale, which was just putting out to sea with a large passenger list. Four men were crushed by the recoil of the great gun.

Following the second disaster the Mississippi put out to sea again to avoid the menace of possible additional explosions to shipping and the city.

EXPECT 2,000 ENROLLMENT

I. U. Summer Term of Eight and One-Half Weeks Opens Today

Bloomington, Ind., June 13—An enrollment which may reach two thousand was anticipated here today as university's thirty-fifth annual summer term opened. The term will continue eight and one-half weeks in the college of arts and sciences and in the professional schools excepting that of law.

The law school will conduct its regular twelve weeks' session and the Winona Lake Biological Station will be open for ten weeks, beginning Friday. Selected intensive courses for teachers and graduate students in education will continue for three weeks following the close of the regular eight and one-half week's session.

Dean H. L. Smith, of the Indiana university school of education, is director of the summer session.

SECONDED MOTION TO SELECT DAWES

sue his own course in the matter. Of course, I have not asked a single delegate to vote for me nor will I do that.

Although the Indiana delegation was aware of the fact that the administration had determined on Hoover after the recess, but were fearful Dawes would run away with the convention, it was determined to continue to vote for Watson. Georgia and Idaho each gave Watson one vote, and Kentucky added ten to Indiana's thirty-three for the Hoosier. Illinois insisted upon giving three votes to Representative Sanders.

Senator Watson attempted to gain the floor when Texas cast its entire vote for Dawes, giving him the nomination. Later he was called to the platform to second the motion to make the nomination of Dawes unanimous.

"Gen. Dawes is a great soldier," Senator Watson said, "he is a great patriot. A man whose advice has been accepted around the world. He is a man we may safely follow. It is a pleasure for me to second the motion made by my distinguished friend from Illinois and move that the nomination be made unanimous. With a ticket headed by Coolidge and Dawes we will march to a great victory for the Grand Old Party."

not have any marked support in hotel lobby discussions among delegates.

When the convention met last night, after hearing the refusal of former Governor Frank O. Lowden, no one had the slightest notion concerning the likely nominee. Coolidge managers and the opposing factions, all were prepared to test the strength of their favorites through ballots until they picked one strong enough to win.

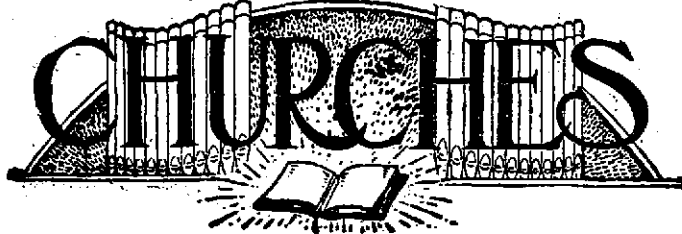

Then Dawes began to show the greatest strength in the field, there was a stampede for him. The delegates voted, yelled a bit and began gathering up their hats and coats before the ballot was complete.

"Keep Off The Grass"

The Coolidge spokesmen, who reiterated time without number, that the president had no intention or desire to dictate the nomination of a vice president at Cleveland, disclosed the president's real sentiments in the matter—that the "keep off the grass" sign applied to members of congress.

Senator James E. Watson admitted, after the nomination of Brig.
Gen. Dawes, that the white house group did not want a member of congress on the ticket with him, in spite of previous statements that he had no intention of using his influence in any way, in the selection of a vice-presidential candidate.

It is not difficult to understand Cool-idge's reasoning, in finally putting up the sign, when it began to appear that Senator Curtis might be the choice of the convention. Just as soon as the Curtis candidacy was taken seriously, William M. Butler Coolidge's campaign manager, promptly came out for Judge Kenyon former senator from Iowa. This was the first time anything had come from Coolidge's cohorts to indicate that he favored any particular man.

It is very clear that Coolidge is not going to make the campaign on the record of the congress, and therefore did not want a member of
of the congress on the ticket with him.

It is equally as clear why Coolidge will not want to seek the presidency on the congressional record, because the congress did not always meet his views. His vetoes were twice overridden, and another one might have been, but for the fact that it was given just as congress was adjourning.

Congress refused to follow presidential advice on the bonus or tax revision, and this fall we will find out whether the president or congress was right.

Farm Situation Better

It's no easy matter to attempt to tell a farmer that the average condition of the American farmer has improved ten percent during the past year.

But that's what the department of agriculture is doing, and if it succeeds in making some farmers believe that their business is on the up grade, it will be better for them and the country as well.

Revised estimates, the department says, show that the 1923 crops had a total value of about ten billions of dollars, an increase of more than a billion in one year.

Total value of exports of principal agricultural products from United States for eight months ended Feb. 29, 1924, was $1,308,338,000 as compared with $1,233,716,000 for the same period during preceding year, an increase of 6 percent.

In a recent statement, the Department of Agriculture says: "The general agricultural outlook for 1924 indicates that farmers are undertaking a normal production program.
It is apparent, however, that agricultural production this year will still be attended by difficulties arising from high wages and other costs."

"Domestic demand for agricultural products is at a high level. Foreign markets on the whole, seem likely to maintain about the present level of demand."

FIFTEEN YEARS
AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Monday, June 14, 1909
Tom Meredith will leave Wednesday for Marthorane, Florida, where he will be employed on the Florida-Cuba railroad as an assistant electrician.

The Fourth of July this year will come on the fifth, or rather it will be celebrated on the fifth, as Sunday is the Fourth. There will be no big, old-fashioned patriotic, eagle screaming celebration, but the one hundred and thirty-third anniversary of the birth of the nation will be observed as a holiday on Monday, July 5.

Bob Tompkins, Harrie Jones and Will Jay have erected a dandy bungalow on the farm of "Pop" Powers in Jackson township on the banks of the classic Flatrock where they will spend a number of week-ends
this summer.

T. E. McAllister, proprietor of the Grand Hotel restaurant, met with a painful and distressing accident Sunday morning. He was engaged in taking a bath and on standing up in the tub his feet slipped from under him and he fell with great force, his chin and mouth striking the edge of the tub.

Just an ordinary Sunday was yesterday, nothing going on in particular anywhere, but still over three hundred people left Rushville and journeyed to other cities to spend the day.

Miss Lucille Meredith of West

cles are very rare and valuable.

Misses Carrie and Mary Moorman went to Bloomington today to enter term.

Mrs. T. H. Chadwick and son Roy of Pleasant Lake returned home today after spending Sunday with Dr.
and Mrs. P. H. Chadwick in North Morgan street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stone of Carthage went to Richmond today to be present at the celebration exercises of the fiftieth anniversary of Earlham college. Miss Rena Stone graduates with this class.

Miss Murillo Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Roth, of Brookville, who attends the Catholic school,
over a mile distant from her home, never missed an hour in the two years she has been attending school.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Betker, Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Mull and Mr. and Mrs. Will Havens made a trip to Indianapolis yesterday in an automobile.

If it were a crime to rob people of

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Not the least of the considerations entering into the pre-convention maneuvering of Democratic chieftains are the ages of the respective candidates for the presidential nomination.

For the purposes of these leaders,
the individuals considered as "possibilities" are merely pawns in a game, to be advanced or withdrawn as the exigencies of the play presents. Neither sentiment nor personal loyalty is permitted to stand in the way of making the play that promises to bring success to the particular interests or groups behind the game.

For there are special interests desiring to control the selection of the Democratic nominee, just as there are interests which seek to shape affairs in the G. O. P.

THIS matter of age enters into the plans of the play through the coolly considered possibility that the man put at the top of the ticket might not live out his term.
Failing to get across the particular man or sort of man they desire as the nominee for president, it might then become preferable to help boost into first place the man most likely to succumb to his years and the burdens of the office, seeking to get into second place on the ticket the man or type of man they would really prefer as president.

Of the dozen or more leading and "dark horse" candidates in the running at New York, five are more than 60 years of age.

McAdoo is the youngest of the senexarians. He will be 61 on Oct. 31. Also, he is physically the most active. Due to his temperament and his physical fitness, his age is no handicap. He has the sneaky wiriness of a broncho and the physical keenness of the average man of 40.

Underwood comes next, with 62

years behind him. Well preserved, well poised, somewhat phlegmatic, he is the sort that passes three-score and ten with reasonable security.

Walsh of Montana, at 65, also would be a good insurance risk.
He feels, as he looks, more nearly 55.

Glass of Virginia, who is rumored as the legate of the McAdoo strength in case William Gibbs cannot land the nomination, was 66 last January. Small, wiry, physically as tough as sole leather,
he is the type that gradually shrivels to a wrinkled old age, but keeps a bright eye and caustic tongue into his eighties.

Last, and oldest of the five, is Samuel Moffett Talston of Indiana, by many regarded—because of, not in spite of, his years—the most likely nominee.

MUCH has been written of Ral-ston's age as a handicap to his nomination. No one has raised that issue against Glass, although Talston is only one month and four days older. He was 66 on Dec. 1.
But Ralston is a big, heavy-boned man and his years appear at least to rest more heavily upon him.

And there is where the favor of the boys who may be forced to play, a long shot to achieve their desires comes in.

TAKE the wets, for instance.
For there is an aggressive
wet faction among the Democrats.

Failing to put across Smith or some equally open wet for the top of the ticket, it is suggested they throw their full strength to Ralston. Talston is not a wet, of course.
He's a Hoosier Presbyterian.

But the nomination of Ralston for first place might open the door to Ritchie of Maryland or Silver of New Jersey for second place. Both are wets.

The final result would be left in the hands of Fate.

INDIANA TRAVELERS HERE

Rushville Team Will Make Another Effort to Play Ball Sunday

Another effort to play baseball will be made Sunday by the Rushville club, and the Indiana Travelers of Indianapolis are billed for a game, providing the weather man continues to let the sun shine.

The season has been a failure so far on account of inability to play on wet grounds, and five of the games were called off on account of the weather. The Travelers are a fast bunch of players and for years have made regular trips to this city and on all occasions they have a good team. On the Sunday following, the Batesville club has been booked. Two games will be played July 4, with the Modern Woodman team of Anderson one game to be played at 9:30 in the morning, and the other at 3 in the afternoon.

William Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meyers, of north of this city is improving nicely after his operation for the removal of his appendix last Saturday at Dr. Frank Green's hospital.

U. S. RANKS HIGH
FOR OLYMPIC POLO

By PERCY M. SARR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
London, June 13.—It looks like the finals for the Olympic polo championship will be confirmed to the United States, Argentine and Great Britain. Such is the impression gained from talks with the leading players of these countries, now in England for practice and sharpening-up with a view to triumph at Paris.

British, Argentine and American players are not greatly worried about possible French, Spanish, or other opponents. They have their eyes on each other.

Jack Nelson, Argentina's brilliant captain, is quietly confident of beating England—if Argentina meets them—but is not quite sure about America.

The reason that Nelson is doubtful about America is that there is somewhat of an "if" about Argentina and Great Britain. There is apparently none about the United States team.

The present Argentine team is of an experimental character, as the members had not, prior to arrival in England played together as a team. As regards ponies, no fears are entertained, for Jack Nelson told me that his string of 33 animals is far superior to those brought over for the matches with England last year.

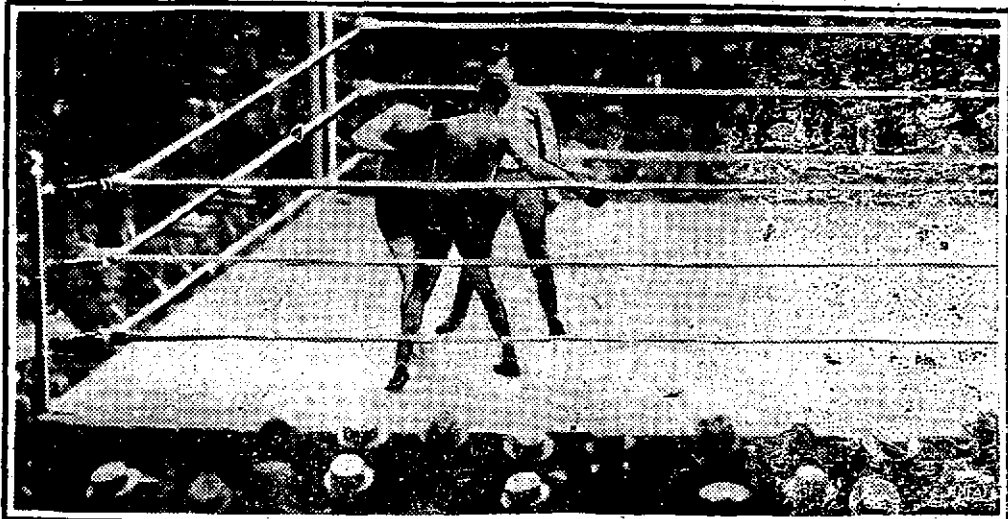

As regards individual players, Nelson is quite satisfied. A. Kenny, the Argentine No. 1, is a magnificent player and one of the best amateur jockeys in the southern republic. Kenny was unable to make the voyage last year and the "Big Four" earned international fame. Unfortunately for Argentina only two of them are left to contest the Olympic championship. At the last moment David Miles was unable to make the journey, and Lacey is barred, under Olympic rules, owing to not having been born in the Argentine—actually he was born in Canada, I believe. Argentina's bad luck will probably prove England's fortune, for Lacey, not wishing to drop out of international polo, has intimated his readiness to accept selection for the British team which will visit America in September to fight for the international cup. His selection is almost a foregone conclusion.

Reverting to the Argentine team, David Miles' absence may not be an insurmountable difficulty, for it will necessitate Jack Miles playing No. 3, and Captain Nelson says that is really his proper position. For the important position of "back" the Argentinians have Captain Padilla, a player who in early practice matches earned golden opinions here. Captain Nelson plays No. 2. The reserve will be Brooke Naylor.

The United States lineup will be: "Tommy" Hitchcock, of the Aiken Polo Club; Rodman Wanamaker, Bryn Mawr Polo Club; Elmer J. Boeseke, Jr., Sana Barbara Polo Club; Frederick Roe, Bryn Mawr Polo Club; reserve, George Moore, Sana Barbara Club.

Hitchcock is recognized as one of the best men playing today. His lightning dashes up the field in the famous Milburn team which won the Westchester Cup from England a couple of years ago are still remembered here with painful admiration.

When Wills Won, But Couldn't "Lick"

Scene at the Wills-Madden fight in which the fighting Briton surprised the sport world and won wide read commendation for his gameness.

Rodman Wanamaker is fairly well known here, and is classed as "plus 6" under British rules. I personally think his handicap will be largely increased before this season is ended. At present, one cannot say that the United States team compares with the "Big Four" which won the Westchester Cup, but they are fine players and well mounted. Hitchcock himself might win any match.

KEEPING ONE EYE
ON THE SCOREBOARD

An easy win from the Boston Braves, 9 to 5, put the Chicago Cubs with in half a game of the league leading Giants.

A ninth inning rally by the Cleveland Indians failed to beat the Boston Red Sox, who won 4 to 3.

Manager Huggins' new batting order showed up strong against the Tigers and the Yankees won 10 to 4.

Thurston pitching for the White Sox was never in difficulty and won his ninth game of the season, defeating the Athletics, 5 to 3.

Jackson Scholz, of the New York Athletic Club, who bettered Olympic records for the 10-meter dash at try-outs for the Olympic games recently staged.

LARGE FIELD OF ATHLETES

Chief Interest Is Meeting of Paddock and Several Runners Who Are After His Title

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 12.—Uncle Sam looks over his track and field hopefuls today and Saturday at the Harvard Stadium, and picks those who will carry his shield in the Olympic games of 1924.

Unprecedentedly large fields have qualified for the various events to be contested, and many trial heats are in order.

After the running and the jumping and the weight pushing is over, the Olympic team selection committee will meet at the Boston A. A., Saturday night and name the American team. Club and college athletes who have come through the sectional tryouts are headed for Cambridge. There are stars and record threateners in practically every event, but it is the sprinters who will draw the attention.

Chief interest centers in the meeting over the hundred meter route of Charley Paddock, Loren Murchison, Jackson V. Sholz and Frank Hussey, the latter the sensational Brooklyn school boy sprinter.

At Cambridge may come the opportunity to see just how good Charley Paddock is today and how he stacks up against the sprinters of the east whom he has beaten in the past, but who have been more consistent performers of late.

Once when I came in from my run with my stomach all upset and my digestion just about wrecked, Tanlac proved effective and I began to swear by it. Again following an accident that kept me in bed for a long time and pulled me down to a mere shadow of myself, I turned to Tanlac and it built my weight right up and gave me back all the energy and strength I ever had."

Takes pills for years—finds first permanent relief in Kellogg's Bran

Have you found permanent relief from that terrible disease—constipation? The woman whose letter follows discovered—as thousands have discovered—that Kellogg's Bran succeeds when all else fails. This is because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. This is what she wrote:

"Gentlemen:

I am so wonderfully happy over my discovery. I feel I must tell the world about it. For years I have been ill continually from constipation, always resorting to pills or the like, never having any permanent relief until I heard of your Bran.

Every morning I take two table-spoonfuls before my breakfast—and since the latter part of August, I must admit have not experienced one sick spell which I have had for years. I have started my little girl of four years on your Bran, and already I have noticed a change in her. Thank you."

Name and address furnished on request. Write the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases of constipation. Eat at least two table-spoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Money returned if not effective.

Notice the wonderful nut-like flavor. This flavor is delicious—so different from ordinary, unpalatable brans.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, made in Battle Creek, is served by America's leading hotels and clubs. Demand Kellogg's Bran. It will bring back your health. Start eating it today. Sold by all grocers.

MOVIES

Jack Holt Feature

From the rolling plains of the biggest ranch in Montana, to the heights of the snow-capped peaks, ranges the action of "Ridgeway of Montana," Jack Hoxie's western starring feature, a Universal offering at the Mystery theatre today.

Someone once said that action, no matter how intricate and fast-moving can not make a picture of this type really interesting unless it has novel elements. Readers of William McLeod Raine's novels of the west, of which this is one of the most popular, look for Raine's unusual and strange plots.

Hoxie is supported by a capable cast including such veterans as Herbert Fortier, Lou Meehan, Pat Harmon, Charles E. Thurston and William McCall. In addition, Pierre Gendron, one of the most promising juvenile leading men, and Olive Hasbrouck, a "discovery," elevated from the ranks of minor players, are presented in principal roles.

"Bunk", an Australian shepherd dog owned by Hoxie, also is seen in his very first screen role.

"Daughters of Today"

"Daughters of Today," a story of the younger generation opened at three days' engagement at the Castle theatre Thursday. This is the world's premiere of the film which has not been shown even in New York. The story deals with the adventures of a young girl who leaves her home in the country to go away to college. Arriving there she gets in with the wrong crowd, the gambling drinking set, and pursues her gay and thoughtless way to the distress of her parents. Finally, after a series of adventures, culminating in murder, the picture leads to a satisfying ending. The cast is headed by Patsy Ruth Miller, star of the "Hunchback of Notre Dame," and Ralph Graves, featured with Marion Davies in the latest Cosmopolitan film, "Yolanda." In their support appear, Zaza Pitts, Phil McCullough, Edna Murphy, Phillips Smalley, George Nichols and Gertrude Claire.

"Those Who Dance"

A tribute to the devotion of women who risk life itself or the living death of dishonor for the men they love is paid by Thomas H. Ince in his new drama, "Those Who Dance," a First National release which comes to the Princess theatre today and Saturday.

Ince has told a remarkable story of a little country girl who falls in with the life of the New York underworld in the attempt to save her brother from gangsters who have "framed" him on a charge of murder. When every other attempt fails, Rose, rather than abandon her brother to his fate, throws away her good name and, through an affinity whom she takes into the home of the bootleg king of the underworld, gets the necessary evidence which frees her brother.

Bianche Sweet, as the innocent girl from up-state, who hobs her lovely curls and puts on the plant and flapper dress of an underworld queen to save a man from the electric chair, has one of the most compelling roles she ever has portrayed. The dual characterization gives her full scope for the scope for the dramatic ability she displayed so tellingly in "Anne Christie."

Now Is the Time to Prevent Cholera

It is predicted that this year will be one of the worst years for HOG CHOLERA we have had for some time.

I have taken over the exclusive agency for the American Veterinary Supply Co. for this county. I will be glad to call on you and explain our policy. We have saved the farmers of Indiana thousands of dollars. Have you had your share of this saving?

The best time to treat hogs is at the age of seven to nine weeks, while they are still on the sow; they will come through the reaction in better shape and will cost you less.

Woman's Secret Charm

In perfect health lies the secret of woman's charm which makes her radiate cheer and happiness wherever she goes. No one enjoys listening to the aches, pains and woes of an ailing nervous irritable woman, and her condition is plainly stamped upon every feature. The most effective remedy for woman's ailments ever discovered has proved to be Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women are soon restored to health by its use and acquire the charm that health alone can give.

When John Howard Payne wrote "HOME SWEET HOME" he was an outcast and homeless, but instilled in his mind as well as in every individual's mind there was the desire to own his own home.

If ever there was an IDEAL LOCATION for the abode of man and for the realization of that desire to own a home it is here in

THIS BEAUTIFUL NEW ADDITION TO RUSHVILLE

The Lots Are All Wide and Deep

Ranging in width from 50 feet to 60 feet and 165 Feet in depth.

THE LOCATION IS THE BEST

Being Bounded on the north and west by Memorial Park and the soon to be improved Park Boulevard; on the east by Main street, and on the south and east by as fine a Residential District as there is anywhere.

A SANITARY SEWER will be brought to the street or alley adjacent to every lot, without any additional cost.

AMERICAN ELM TREES—A tree of rapid and lofty growth, have been set out over the entire addition.

BUILDING RESTRICTIONS have been placed on each lot, requiring at least a certain amount to be expended and that the house be set back so far from the street, thus standardizing and appreciating the value of every other lot.

EASY PAYMENTS PERMITTED

One - Third Down; One - Third when sanitary sewer is in adjacent to the lot, and One - Third at the end of a year.

NO INTEREST ON DEFERRED PAYMENTS UNTIL AFTER MATURITY. NO TAXES TO PAY UNTIL THE SPRING OF 1926.

NEVER BEFORE HAS SUCH A BEAUTIFUL AND IMPROVED ADDITION been offered the people of Rushville and such an opportunity will probably not again be offered in years. Other improved vacant property is scarce and at a premium. The low and conservative prices placed on these lots make every one AN EXCELLENT INVESTMENT.

Come Tomorrow or Sunday or Any Day to See It!

All Lots are Plainly Marked and Numbered so that you can easily find the one you want.
